LETTERS FROM THOMAS CULLEN, ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, TO RICHARD ELLIOTT OF DETROIT IN 1849

Extracted by Mary Lou Duncan, Grosse Pointe Shores, Michigan

Richard Elliott was a passenger agent in the city of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan. He received money from other persons to be directed to relatives and friends in Ireland, often to allow them to obtain passage to this country. The Reverend Mr. Thomas Cullen of Ann Arbor was one who channeled money to Elliott. The following exerpts were taken from a loosely bound book of letters written to Richard R. Elliott in 1849. They were found in the manuscript collection of the Burton Historical Collection, Detroit Public Library in the Richard R. Elliott Papers. Since the most difficult part of Irish genealogical research is ascertaining the original townland and county in Ireland of the immigrant the specific addresses given in these letters may be of great value for researchers.

YOUNKINS MYSTERY BOX DISCOVERED: SURNAMES OF FLEMING, HAINES, SPARGO, HUTZLER, AND CYPHER INCLUDED

Contributed by Marcia McCrary, Ypsilanti, Michigan

Last summer, the GSWC was given a box of pictures and memorabilia which was found in a barn in Saline, Michigan, and given to Dorie Bable. We have advertised on the Internet and believe we have found a home for it with the Butler Co., Pennsylvania Historical Society.

Contained in the box are pictures with the names: Crete, Cardie, Elsie and Martha FLEMING on them. Martha appears to be the mother, and the others her daughters. Included as well are Charlie, Henry and Florence FLEMING. Florence's other name is HAINES. It is clear that the family lived in Pennsylvania, with mention being made of these towns in Butler County: Butler, Marwood and Sarver; and in Armstrong County: Freeport and Schenley. Elsie FLEMING attended Cabot Institute for High School, next Pennsylvania Normal School, Indiana, Pennsylvania; then taught at Buckeye School, Youngstown, Ohio; and Buffalo Consolidated Schools (1951). Elsie married Arlington "Yank" YOUNKINS, and they had one daughter, Bonnie Lee, born 14 August 1940. Elsie also taught at Winfield-Clinton, Pennsylvania, where she was Bonnie's teacher for eighth grade. Elsie's great grandmother was Mrs. Nancy Cypher, married 11 April 1873 in Pittsburg. Elsie's mother, Martha, was born 26 April 1871 and died 5 December 1942. The most recent dates in the box are Birthday, Christmas cards and letters to Elsie for 1964 and 1965. She was born in June, 1894, her sister Crete in 1898, brother Charlie in 1895, but neither sister Cardie, nor brother Richard have dates given for them. Both Crete and Bonnie married Bobs. Bonnie's children are Kim and "Baby Bob."

The FLEMINGs vacationed in Conneaut Lake, Pennsylvania and Niagara Falls. Crete lived in Lombard, Illinois (1934, 1938), Indianapolis (1937), and Lodi, California, where she died in 1964 (married name unknown).

Other names which appear are Joe, Ralph and Eleanor HUTZLER, Jeff HARTFORD, Audley and Margaret SPARGO (he also went to Indiana Normal School, Pennsylvania 1912), Fern MILLER, Jimmy BAKER and Paul McGILL (in WWI uniform).

This has been an interesting puzzle. It reminds all of us to LABEL PICTURES! And put return addresses on letters!

A SURNAME, "RELATIVELY" SPEAKING

Submitted by Karen L. Jenter, Manchester, Michigan

If your surname is Jones, or Smith or even MacDonald, you are probably not related to every other Jones, or Smith or MacDonald in the United States. My family name Jenter is a name that is claimed by less than 200 people in the United States. In the short two and a half years that I have been doing the Jenter Family genealogy, I have made some amazing discoveries.

I guess you could say I was always interested in antiques, and family history. From the time I was a young girl, I remember my great Aunt Emilie Jenter Spafard, who was my grandfather Arthur Ernest Jenter's older sister, talking to anyone who would listen, about her genealogy search I guess I was the only great niece who rely listened and showed an interest in the family history so shortly before she died in 1972, she gave to me the folder containing the research she had done on the Jenter Family. In 1972 my grandmother, my mother and father, my father's older brother, my brother and myself were the only ones in Michigan who still had the Jenter surname. We always knew there were a few more Jenters out there but did not know who or where they were. The folder sat in my bookcase for 18 years and survived a move to a new home in 1990.

In January 1997, I received a letter from Harry Jenter from Sterling, Virginia. Harry had contacted a genealogical source and had written letters to the 37 households in the United States with the Jenter surname. Within a ten day period Harry had heard from 32 of us. He was able to determine that the Jenters in the United States were concentrated in seven areas - our family in Michigan, Harry's family from Ohio, a family in the New York-New Jersey area, some in Pennsylvania, some in Ontario, Canada, who winter in Florida and the largest group in and around South Dakota. In the majority of the letters that Harry had initially received, the writers had included their family trees. Yes, we all seemed to be interested in genealogy research and those who hadn't promised to get their trees to him shortly.

I had done just a thumb-nail sketch of my family, taking me back to my great great grandfather Christian Jenter, thanks to Aunt Emilie's records, and sent this with my first letter to Harry and I promised him that I would weed through the 25 pages of notes that Aunt Emilie had left, and send to him a more complex tree as soon as possible. During the next several weeks, I spent many hours going through boxes and boxes of family photographs, documents, and letters that we had brought to our home after Aunt Emilie's son had passed away in 1993. With the help of her diligent research, the documents she had saved and the records of family births, deaths, marriages, confirmations in our family church Emanuel United Church of Christ, formerly Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church, in Manchester, Michigan, I was able to piece together our family tree, back to 1750, when Aunt Emilie had noted our earliest ancestor, Johann Martin Jenter was born. I knew that my records could be documented, as I had the church records and documents kept by Aunt Emilie, but where did Aunt Emilie get the information about my great, great grandfather Christian Jenter, my great, great, great grandfather Gottlieb Jenter and my great, great, great, great grandfather Johann Martin Jenter?

Well, it was time I bit the bullet and began searching for records. Harry gave me a crash course of the records kept by the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-day Saints, and how to use their library. And knowing there was a branch of the LDS Library in Ann Arbor, I began my research, which in itself was no small feat, since I could not read German, let alone old German script. But I knew my family had lived in Zillhausen, Germany, from Aunt Emilie's research, and Harry had helped me locate the town of Zillhausen on the map. Zillhausen, Wuerttemberg, Germany, had been incorporated into the town of Balingen, about one hour's drive south of Stuttgart, Germany.

Now, armed with a book on how to decipher German, and with the help of the volunteer staff at the Ann Arbor LDS Library, I ordered my set of microfilm records from the Evangelische Church in Zillhausen. I eagerly awaited its arrival. Once the tape had arrived, I anxiously started viewing the records. All of the sudden, after about an hour of looking at the old German Script, there it was, the family of Johann Martin Jenter, born in 1750. Also listed were his wife, and all of his children. From there I also found baptismal records for all of the children. Finally I had the link to the records Aunt Emilie had so patiently gathered years before. I was able to make photo copies of the records, and having already found a lady in Virginia who could translate German Script I sent the records off to her. Within a short time, back came her translated record. I actually had a family and now I knew that Johann Martin Jenter had not been born in Zillhausen, but had been born in Heselwangen, just a short distance away, but had married a girl from Zillhausen and settled there to raise his family. Johann Martin's son was Gottlieb, whose son was Christian, my great, great grandfather who came to America in 1852.

Over the next several months, I eagerly ordered the tapes from Heselwangen and spent many a pleasant Sunday afternoon, finding my family's records, from those so carefully kept by the Heselwangen Evangelische Church. By carefully tracing each generation back, I found all kinds of church records back to ancestor Laux (Lucas) Jenter, born in Heselwangen in 1654. About that same time, I had begun to correspond with several other Jenters in the USA, who had originally responded to Harry Jenter; Rob Jenter in New York and Shirley Norman, who lived in Colorado, but was the granddaughter of Emma Jenter Norman, one of the South Dakota Jenters. We exchanged family trees, and suddenly the pieces fit. In each case, they all had great grandfathers (that's a lot of greats added on) who were actually brothers to my great grandfather. This convinced us that all of the Jenters in the USA were related, because someone from each of the seven areas, could link their family into this giant tree. Rob actually was able to send me records going back to Laux (Lucas) Jenter born circa 1580, who was French Huguenot, who moved from France, because of religious persecution, to Heselwangen, Germany. Shirley Norman was also able to plug her family into the same tree.

At the same time I was researching my family, my faithful translator in Virginia suggested I write a letter to the Pastor of the Evangelische Church in Zillhausen, Germany, telling him a little about myself and my research into the Jenter name, and requesting that if he still had members of his congregation surnamed Jenter, to pass my letter along to them. This letter was sent to him in June, 1996. I had no idea if the letter would reach the church, or if it did, if I actually would hear from anyone. Then, on September 19, 1996, which was actually my birthday, I received a large envelope from the Wilhelm Jenter Family of Zillhausen-Balingen, Germany. Wilhelm and Anita Jenter wrote that the letter had been passed to them by Pastor Gross, and they sent wonderful pictures of their family. They have three grown sons, and four granddaughters. They also sent copies of Wilhelm's family records, taken from old Bibles in his family. Suddenly there was another link. Wilhelm's great, great grandfather Jakob was the brother of my great, great, great grandfather Gottlieb, whose son Christian, was my great, great grandfather, the one who came to America from Germany in 1852 and settled in Ann Arbor. Wilhelm was also able to tell me that he is related to every other Jenter in the Zillhausen-Balingen area in Germany. There are about another 200 households in Germany, all living within a 20 mile radius of Zillhausen. And since I could plug him into my family tree, I pretty much knew that we all were descendants of Laux (Lucas) Jenter born circa 1580.

So far, I have not yet been able to determine if there are records anywhere tracing Laux born circa 1580, back any farther. But, if they are out there, I know that somehow we can find them. To this day I continue to correspond with the cousins in Germany. We have so much in common. I know that my Church will be making a trip to Germany in 1999, tracing the Reformation Movement and one of our stops will be in Stuttgart. The Jenter Family in Germany already knows that I will definitely be on that tour, and we will be arranging to meet and I will be able to see all of the places my ancestors lived. In fact, Anita has already told me what wonderful German food she will cook for me. As long as it includes a lot of Sauerkraut, I will be one happy German!

THE OBITUARY OF MRS. ELEANOR INMANN, 1802-1893

THE LATE MRS. INMAN. Battle Creek, Mich., June 6, 1893
Editor Courier: - Mrs. Eleanor Inmann, relict of the late Alvah Inmann, of Ann Arbor, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Dr. L.A. Foote, on Monday June 5th, from the result of an apoplectic stoke received March 3rd. Mrs. Inmann was born near Victor, N. Y., Sept. 18, 1802. She came to Michigan with her husband in 1832 and settled upon Lodi plains. In 1860 they moved to Ann Arbor, where they resided until March, 1879, when Mr. Inmann died. Since then she has resided with her daughter Della, most of the time, at Battle Creek.

She leaves three children, Geo.W. of Ypsilanti; Mrs.Anna Cowdeny, of Hartford, Conn., and Adela E. Foote, of Battle Creek.

Mrs. Inmann was one of the few left of the pioneers of the old territorial days. Her life covering as it did, nearly a century of history, has witnessed the entire growth of Michigan as a state, as well as several years as a territory. ... She belonged to the Presbyterian church of Ann Arbor.... She was buried at Lodi, by the side of her late husband, Wednesday, June 7th. L.A.F.

CONNECTICUT TO MICHIGAN: THE DANIEL W. BALDWIN STORY

Research by Carolyn L. Griffin, Ypsilanti, Michigan

The youngest daughter Sarah F. Baldwin who married Irvin Waterman Benson in 1868 also lived in Wexford County. They had eight children: a male born 5 February who died 10 February 1870; Edgar Daniel born 3 April 1871; my husband's great grandmother Elvira Winogene born 18 April 1873; Rose born 14 August 1877; Fred born 30 June 1879; Marcus born 19 April 1881; Nellie Maria born 26 April 1883; and Charlotte (Lottie) born 26 August 1885. After being widowed on 15 August 1891, Sarah married Joseph McDaniel on 24 March 1896. She later moved to Idaho and then to Washington State where she died at the age of 86 years, 11 months, and 19 days on 6 March 1935 at 928 Key Street in Bellingham, Whatcom County.

Deeds from Wexford County showed William E. Dean and wife Damarious of Springville, Wexford County, sold 169 acres of land to Evalinda Baldwin on 15 July 1887 for $5,000 and on the same day Evalinda sold the same land back to her daughter Demarious C. Dean for the same $5,000. Daniel W. Baldwin transferred 120 acres of land to Evalinda on 5 November 1890. His son-in-law William E. Dean, Justice of the Peace, appeared as administrator of Daniel's estate 28 November 1890, after Daniel's death on 17 November 1890.

The 1900 Wexford Township census enumerated Evalinda age 77, born October 1822 with parents from New York. She had an adopted son William E., born May 1881, parents unknown.

By 1901 the family felt that Evalinda was being taken advantage of by unscrupulous people and her personal worth of $250 and property worth $1200 should be preserved by a family member. Her granddaughter Mabel Rose of Sherman was chosen to protect her interests. The document listed her relatives as son Myron Baldwin, 61, of Wexford; daughter Demarious Dean, 57, of Sherman; daughter Sara F. McDaniel, 54, of Bulah (Beulah) or Sherman; and Mabel Rose, 45, granddaughter from Sherman.

We do not know when Evalinda died, but we have traced the Daniel W. Baldwin family from Connecticut to Alleghany County, New York, and into Wexford County, Michigan, where they farmed, raised their family and became productive citizens.
